Sea views and space designed for comfort. Â Some properties stand out for the way every space has been thoughtfully considered. Here, space is not simply about square metres, but about creating a comfortable and effortless way of living. This apartment in La Recoleta, located in the coastal area of Punta Prima, brings together a combination of features that rarely come together so harmoniously: a south-facing orientation, open sea views, a generous terrace and a well-designed layout that offers both independence and privacy. Situated on the second floor, this beautifully presented apartment features a bright and spacious living area. The lounge, dining area and open-plan kitchen form a seamless living space,...(Ask for More Details!)
