This lovely villa embodies classic Javea architecture, designed in a Mediterranean style that blends harmoniously with the surrounding landscape. Outside, the lush mature garden wraps around the property, creating shaded corners and sunlit terraces ideal for relaxing or entertaining. Native plants, established trees and natural stone details frame uninterrupted views of the Montgó mountain and a small glimpse of Javea bay. Entering the home, the entrance hall features built-in shelving and a practical desk area, setting a welcoming and functional tone. The dining room, centred around a wood-burning stove, opens directly into a round glazed naya, a signature feature, where curved glass panels capture panoramic scenery and fill the interior...(Ask for More Details!)
