

MNH568754469

Villa in La Nucia

€1,325,000

3

3

351m²

800m²

This is a home with a basement, ground floor and first floor that stands out for its contemporary appearance and attention to detail. The facade of the house is made up of several cubes of different sizes and heights, which are interspersed creating an irregular geometry. These cubes are carefully arranged to achieve a modern and attractive aesthetic, while maintaining a sense of subtlety. This volumetric arrangement generates a play of light and shadows on the facade which adds depth and dynamism to this house. The choice of large windows and openings strategically located on the facade allows natural light to enter the interior and creates a visual connection between...(Ask for More Details!)